

North Pocono

Senior Alec Aversa is a community volunteer with a strong academic record.

The son of Jack and Joanne Aversa, Alec is preparing for college by forgoing study halls and taking challenging Advanced Placement courses: Advanced Placement Physics 2, calculus, psychology, English literature and composition, and statistics.

He placed in the top 10 of his class throughout high school and is currently ranked fourth.

A Science Olympiad member, Alec volunteered for road cleanups with the team.

Musically, Alec plays the violin in the Marywood Strings Project and also plays the drums and ukulele.

Alec is a member of Pocono Mountain Bible Conference, a church camp that helps the community and preaches to ages 8 to 18. He volunteered and worked at the camp and also works at KCS Inc., walking and feeding boarding dogs.

After high school, Alec plans to attend Misericordia University and double major in computer science and mathematics, followed by Stanford University. Later in life, Alec hopes to work for Google or another major computer company.
